Definition

Maximum Drawdown : The percentage of the fund's maximum loss in the past 5 years (or since the fund's inception if it is launched for less than 5 years) which is measured from the highest NAV per unit to the lowest NAV per unit during such period. Maximum Drawdown is an indicator of the risk of loss from investing in the fund.

Recovering Period : The length of time that the fund takes in recovering from the point of maximum loss to earning back the initial investment.

FX Hedging : The percentage of foreign currency investment with FX hedging.

Portfolio Turnover Ratio : The frequency of securities trading in the fund portfolio over a certain period, calculated by taking the lower value between the sum of the value of securities purchased and the sum of the value of securities sold of the fund in 1 year period divided by the average NAV in the same period. A fund with high Portfolio Turnover Ratio indicates frequent securities trading by fund manager resulting in high trading costs. Therefore, it is necessary to compare with the performance of the fund in order to assess the worthiness of such securities trading.

Sharpe Ratio : A ratio between the excess return of a fund and the risk of investment. The Sharpe ratio reveals the average investment return, minus the risk-free rate of return, divided by the standard deviation of returns for the fund. The Sharpe ratio reflects the extra return that should be received by the fund to compensate the amount of risk taken in investment. The fund with a higher Sharpe ratio is considered superior to other funds in terms of management efficiency since it provides higher excess return under the same risk level.

Alpha : The excess return of a fund relative to the return of a benchmark index. A fund with high alpha indicates that it is able to beat the performance of its corresponding benchmark which is a result of the capabilities of the fund manager in selecting appropriate securities for investment or making investment in a timely manner.

Beta : A measure of the degree and direction of volatility of the rate of return of assets in the investment portfolio of the fund compared to the changes in the overall market. A beta of less than 1.0 implies that the rate of return of the fund's assets is less volatile than that of the securities in the broader market whereas a beta of greater than 1.0 implies that the rate of return of the fund's assets is more volatile than that of the broader market.

Tracking Error : The efficiency of the fund to imitate its return to benchmark. Low Tracking Error means the fund is effective in generating return close to benchmark. High Tracking Error means the fund generates return more deviate from benchmark.

Yield to Maturity : The rate of return earned on a bond held to maturity, calculated from the interest expected to receive in the future over that bond duration and paid back principal discounted to the present value. It is used to measure return of fixed income funds by calculating the weighted average of Yield to Maturity of each bond that the fund invests. As Yield to Maturity has standard unit in percentage per annum, it can be used to compare the returns between fixed income funds that have an investment policy of holding bonds until maturity and similar investment characteristics.

1. Eligibility Criteria for Insurance Coverage

- 1.1 Must be a natural person.
- 1.2 Must be a unitholder listed in the fund's registry with an investment value of at least THB 1,000,000, or any other amount as may be amended by the asset management company in the future. The investment value will be assessed based on the unitholder's national ID number.
- 1.3 Must be aged between 15 and 65 years before the coverage start date.
- 1.4 Must be considered in good health by the insurance company. Coverage will be effective upon approval of the insurance application by the insurer.

Unitholders must consent to the disclosure of personal information such as name, address, health data, or any other information required by the insurer. If the asset management company does not receive such information, it reserves the right to deny coverage under the policy.

The asset management company reserves the right to amend the eligibility criteria and conditions as deemed appropriate, prioritizing the interests of unitholders and the fund. Such changes will not be considered a deviation from the fund's project details and will be deemed approved by the unitholders. The company will announce such changes at its office and through selling or redemption agents at least 7 days in advance, and publish them on its website.

2. Termination of Coverage

If the unitholder is eligible for insurance, coverage will begin on the effective date of the insurance policy or upon approval by the insurer and will terminate under any of the following conditions:

- 2.1 When the insurance policy expires.

Eligible unitholders will receive life and health insurance coverage as detailed in the insurance policy. The benefits are provided by the asset management company to enhance the security of unitholders' lives and health. The company will bear the full cost of the insurance premiums, which are included in the management fee.

Once the fund reaches one year from its registration date as a mutual fund, if the asset management company determines that the coverage does not benefit investors overall, affects the fund, or if the insurance premium equals or exceeds the net management fee after expenses, the company reserves the right to amend, improve, or add conditions to the insurance benefits, policy terms, insurer, or any other conditions as permitted by law. This includes the right to cancel life and health insurance benefits, which will be deemed approved by unitholders. Affected unitholders will be notified at least 60 days in advance. During this period, there will be at least one redemption, and unitholders may redeem their units without redemption fees ("exit without fee").

Additionally, the asset management company reserves the right to deny insurance coverage if the number of eligible unitholders is fewer than 100 during the initial offering period. Eligibility will be assessed based on the unitholder's national ID number. This will be deemed approved by unitholders. Affected unitholders will be notified at least 60 days in advance, with at least one redemption during this period, allowing redemption without fees ("exit without fee").

Coverage Start Date refers to the date the insurance policy becomes effective and the date the insurer approves coverage or changes the coverage plan for the unitholder.

Example: Coverage Based on Investment Amount

For instance, Mr. A initially invests THB 1,000,000 in the United Global Equity Absolute Return Fund (UGEAR):

- Mr. A will receive coverage under Plan 1.
- Later, Mr. A invests an additional THB 4,000,000, increasing his total investment. His coverage will be upgraded from Plan 1 to Plan 2.
- Coverage under all four plans is determined based on the increase or decrease in investment value.

Remark: If a unitholder has an investment value exceeding THB 1,000,000 but does not receive insurance approval, they will not be eligible for any life or health insurance plan.

Q: Can unitholders change their life and health insurance coverage plan?

A: Yes, unitholders can change their coverage plan based on changes in their investment value.

- When a unitholder buys or redeems units, the asset management company will notify the insurer to adjust the health insurance plan accordingly, typically on a monthly basis.
- If a unitholder buys or switches into the fund, resulting in an upgrade in coverage plan, they will receive the higher plan once the insurer approves the policy.
- If a unitholder exits and re-enters the fund, coverage will resume only after the insurer approves the new policy.

Q: How is the coverage plan calculated if a unitholder has multiple accounts?

A: Coverage is calculated based on the national ID number of the unitholder. For example:

- Mr. A invests THB 1,000,000 under account number 1111111.
- Mr. A also invests THB 1,000,000 under account number 1111112.

The insurer will calculate the total investment as THB 2,000,000 under Mr. A's national ID and assign the appropriate coverage plan accordingly.

Q: If an account is opened as “for...” or “and/or...”, who receives the life and health insurance coverage?

A: Coverage is assigned based on the first named individual in the fund account application using their national ID.

Examples:

- “Mr. A for Master B” or “Mr. A and/or Mrs. B” → Coverage is assigned to Mr. A.

Q: If an account is opened “by...” such as “Mr. A by Mr. B”, who receives the coverage?

A: The person who receives coverage under the policy is Mr. B.

Q: If a unitholder transfers their units, will they still receive life and health insurance coverage?

A: No. The original unitholder will no longer be eligible for life and health insurance coverage after transferring the units, as they no longer meet the eligibility criteria. Additionally, the coverage will not be transferred to the new unitholder who receives the units.

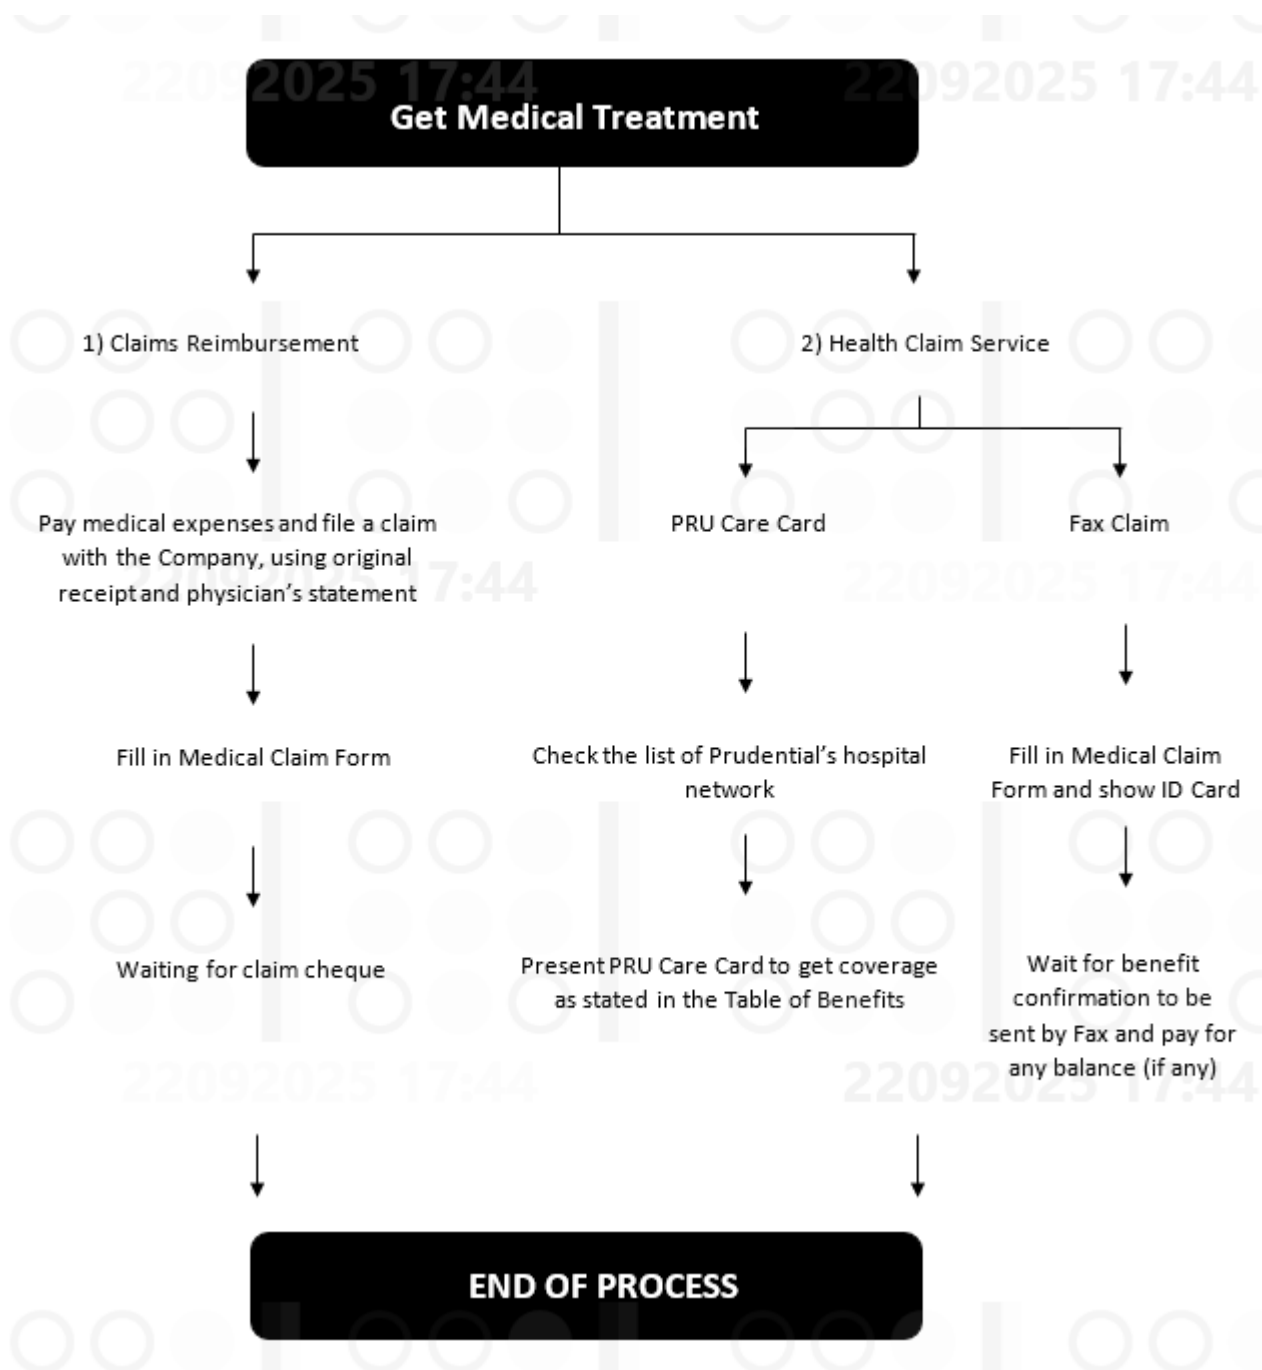

Example

Q: If Mr. A transfers his investment units to Mr. B, and Mr. B subsequently purchases additional units, what happens?

A: Mr. A will no longer be eligible for the previous life and health insurance coverage plan. His insurance rights will be terminated according to the coverage cycle. However, if Mr. A still retains investment units that meet the coverage plan criteria, he will continue to receive coverage based on the remaining investment amount. The portion of units transferred to Mr. B will not carry over the insurance coverage. Nevertheless, Mr. B will be eligible for life and health insurance coverage based on the additional units he purchased, provided he meets the required conditions.
